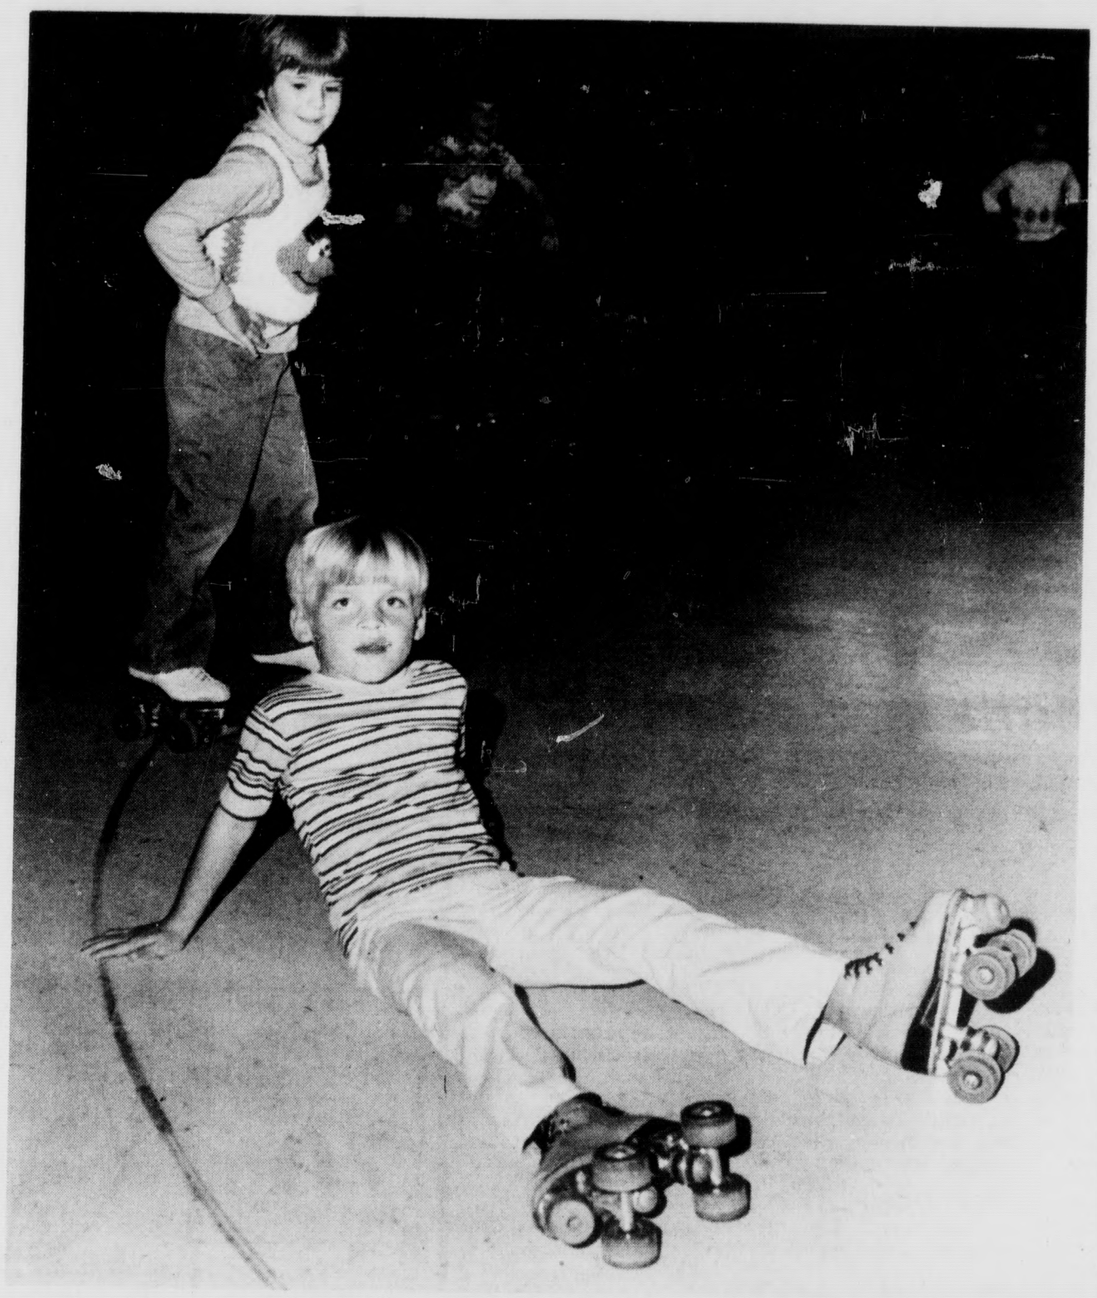
Increasing clouds in the valley with showers likely today and a chance of showers tonight. Partly cloudy Friday. Lows in the 40s tonight. Highs both days in the 60s. Light winds becoming southerly 10 to 20 mph.

Kids roll on wheels of the mind



In to each life a little floor must rise.

Kindergarteners Tommy and Susan quickly laced on their roller skates, glided out on the arena floor and took their places with the 50 or so other Valley Christian Center students.

Barely six weeks ago they had come to the Dublin Rollarena for the first time and spent the early minutes of class clinging to the sideboard to stand up. Tentative steps away from the wall wound up in a tangle of arms and legs on the floor.

But those first cautious minutes and sudden spills have been replaced by a growing confidence and ability to move forward and backward. They can now play simple games, lift their legs and arms and still glide about the roller arena floor.

The motor visual perceptual skills program at Valley Christian Center is now in its second year. Designed for kindergarten through third grade youngsters, it is aimed at improving a child's dexterity with direct relationship to his performance in the classroom.

Mary Rainey of Valley Christian Center is enthusiastic in her description of the activity which involves about 110 students each week. All spend one hour a week at the Dublin Rollarena under her watchful eye and those of interested parents and rink professional Jeannie Jarvinen.

The 5-, 6- and 7 - year - olds are tested on their skills at the end of the year and receive one, two, three or four-star badges, depending on how far they've progressed.

The classes contain youngsters with a wide range of mental and physical abilities. While some little tykes show excellent hand, eye and foot coordination immediately, others progress ever so slowly, still barely able to navigate on skates after six weeks of training.

Mrs. Rainey notes that the Valley Christian Center program is designed to lead to the general goal of having the child learn how to learn, with the prime objective to allow the youngster to develop his perceptual abilities as fully as possible. This objective is based on theory and research concerning the manner in which children cope with problems posed by their environment. This environment is considered to be inside as well as outside the body, Mrs. Rainey states.

Children in the classes will continue their activity at the Dublin rink through May.

It was obvious Wednesday that every child was gaining something positive from these sessions, something that should benefit them in the classroom.

Timing critical if overpass to be funded

PLEASANTON — Federal money may aid construction of the Stoneridge overcrossing and an addition to city hall, thanks to a $2 billion Congressional Public Works Act.

The city council decided to go full speed ahead on processing applications for the federal money for the overcrossing, the city hall addition, a water reservoir on Foothill Road, and a storm drain project downtown.

Director of Engineering Services Don Sooby recommended the four projects, noting that plans for the reservoir are ready to go and probably would be the easiest project to fund from the standpoint of meeting special deadlines established by the Public Works Act.

The act, which was vetoed by President Ford and passed by a two - thirds vote of Congress, is designed to put people to work on construction projects, a sort of modern WPA. One of its provisions is that labor must be employed on the site within 90 days after the project is approved by the Economic Development Administration.

The Foothill Road reservoir would meet that criterion easily, but the other projects are in various states of preparation and the staff will have to scramble and also have quick cooperation of other government agencies to qualify for the federal funds.

The Stoneridge Overcrossing, at an estimated cost of several million dollars, is the project the city needs most among the four, said Sooby. It also has the most problems in regard to time sequence.

Final environmental clearance has not been obtained, although a report on that is expected this week from the Army.

Right - of - way for the overcrossing has not been obtained and it will take time to implement the related assessment districts. Agreements must be drawn up between the city and state. The state government must agree to endorse a high work priority for the project to meet the federal act's deadlines.

The city hall project would include a new city council chambers 45 feet by 55 feet and offices for the city attorney. Both now are housed in the former justice court building, 30 W. Angela St. The city council chambers would cost $150,000 and a city attorney's office $110,000.

Jack Bras, archtect who designed city hall and included these rooms in the original plans, anticipates no problem in getting labor on the site within 90 days of project approval. The site could be prepared on a separate contract while details are being completed for the building, said Sooby.

Sooby said he was aware the city hall addition is not high on the city's priority list, but it appears to him to be one of the better candidates for financing under the federal act.

The storm drain project in the downtown area already is partially funded and the federal act could contribute another $100,000, said Sooby. This would provide the "backbone system which would drain the St. Mary Street - Western Pacific railroad area and could be extended to drain other areas as funds become available," said Sooby.

The environmental review should be easy to do because it is in an old portion of town and it's the type of project which would be 45 per cent labor, giving it maximum points for labor intensity under the federal act's guidelines.

The council approved priorities for all four projects in hopes the city will score with one or more of them. Vice - mayor Joyce LeClaire voted against the downtown storm drains, but it was the first item for a decision and she thought that the council should concentrate on just one project, the Stoneridge overcrossing. When she saw how other council members felt, she voted affirmatively for the other projects.

Reserve fund turned off teachers

Superintendent Bruce Newlin expressed disappointment at the Amador Valley Joint High School District teachers' turndown of a tentative contract agreement reached 2½ weeks ago.

Newlin's comment came after the three Amador district board members present Tuesday had tabled an agenda item calling for ratification of the pact. Trustees Wally Decker and Charles Beazley were absent from the meeting.

The 115-66 defeat of the proposed contract by teachers earlier Tuesday will likely send both sides back to the mediation table along with state-appointed conciliator Mike West. The mediation huddle will likely come Monday.

Amador Valley Secondary Educators Association (AVSEA) President Jim Eaton said teachers were dissuaded from voting for approval on the strength of comments made by Doug Rose, assistant superintendent for business services, concerning the amount the district is budgeting in reserve.

Eaton said teacher and administration negotiators are still "far apart" on salary and fringe benefits as well as the issue of binding arbitration of grievances.

AVSEA's representative council was to have met late yesterday to determine a future course of action.

Neither administration or teacher unit leaders would indicate if mediation would be scrapped and differences put before a fact-finding panel.

Sandia gets grant for cancer fight

LIVERMORE — Sandia Laboratories will explore methods to improve the treatment of cancer under a $500,000 program funded by the National Cancer Institute.

A current method of treatment is to expose cancerous cells to x-rays. Sandia hopes to design a machine to treat patients with neutron beams as an alternate method.

Clinical trials using neutron beams for cancer treatment have been started in the U.S. and Europe. Scientists express cautious optimism that nutron radiation may provide another treatment possibility, although definite proof may be years away.

A neutron beam machine in Chicago is being used for treatment, but is large, immobile and expensive. In addition, physicists or other highly - trained workers must operate the device.

Sandia engineers hope to design a neutron generator that is mobile, reliable, powerful — and relatively inexpensive.

Sandia has worked with a neutron generator in weapons applications for years, and hope to use this expertise towards a better machine for cancer treatment.

Engineers will design, build and operate an experimental facility to test different types of materials used in the generators. Workers are confident they can eventually build a generator practical for cancer treatment.

An underground laboratory is nearing completion at the facility which will house an ion accelerator to test different types of target materials. Initial testing will begin next month.

Fair board ponders parade

PLEASANTON— Whether there's a parade at County Fair time in 1977 will apparently depend on what the city does in relation to the three-year old KNBR parade.

Fair directors believe the two parades are too close together (KNBR's was in late May this year). Secretary - manager Lee Hall said he feels the "KNBR parade has detracted from the Fair parade." The established late-June Fair parade has been in existence since the '30s.

The Fair has budgeted $2,500 for premiums for the parade but would apparently withdraw all support and cooperation if the city decided to cooperate with another edition of the "Good Times" parade.

Hall will attend the California Horse Race Board meeting in Sacramento Friday, a meet that will take up a request by Golden Bear Raceway in Sacramento to transfer four of its 11 weeks of harness racing to Golden Gate Fields next July.

Such a move, though the meeting would be at night, would be in competition with day racing at Pleasanton and the Sonoma County Fair in Santa Rosa.

An article in the Sacramento Bee yesterday reported that operators will get all necessary improvements and lights put in at Golden Gate Fields, receive a 10-year lease with a 10-year option.

The County Fair Association Board of Directors unanimously opposed the transfer of race dates at their Tuesday meeting. Hall also expressed concern over stabling. He said that the Albany plant is used by the fairs as an auxiliary stabling site.

A total publicity and advertising budget of $77,460 for 1977 was approved. The figure includes $58,520 for advertising and production and covers increases in newspaper and television advertising rates. It was also agreed to place additional Fair-time advertising in AC Transit coaches and Bay Area Rapid Transit stations and trains.

Entertainment and special events for the 1977 Fair will be basically the same format as this past summer. Amphitheatre shows will be scheduled for two days each.

One major change is that the community hour entertainment will no longer be competitive. In past years the various acts competed for awards in junior and senior categories. Starting in '77, certificates of recognition will be presented to all.

Directors are also considering two new events— a tractor pull and a log jamboree.

Al Bonne, chairman of the exhibiti committee, announced that commercial exhibit rental rates will remain the same as '76.

Directors also learned the County Roads Department will widen Bernal Avenue towards the Fairgrounds opposite Gates 7 and 8. A portion of the roadway near the gate entrance will be banked at a 5 per cent grade.

Gate 1 will be closed and Gate 2 opened for authorized vehicles only. Gate 1 has been a single entrance gate.

Search on for Bradley replacement

LIVERMORE — The search is on for a new assistant city manager!

Expressing regrets of "losing Brad", City Manager Bill Parness told The Times he is contacting various sources in a search for a replacement for Don Bradley who announced Monday he was leaving his post early December to become the city manager for Pinole.

Parness plans to contact the International City Management Association in Washington, D.C. which maintains a current list of young people aspiring to positions in local government. He called the organization "an excellent source for recruitment."

Also to be contacted are the League of California Cities, which has a similar job placement function, and the county supervisors association.

In addition he will circularize all the larger cities and counties in the state. "The larger ones should contain people that would be interested and qualified for this vacancy."

He expects the whole process to take two months.

Parness called Bradley a person who has "proven his professional competence."

The young assistant has been with the city since Nov., 1967.

Parness said confidence in Bradley led the city manager to "place an increased delegation of administrative burdens on him. That is all to his credit."

"I'll miss his services and only hope it will be possible to recruit someone who will prove as able and likeable."

Bradley leaves a $23,000 post here to direct the Pinole city administration at a $28,000 salary.

Apperson may have financial savior

William Apperson apparently has found financing that saves part of his Sunol hills acreage from a forced sale and keeps alive his hopes of developing a dude ranch on Apperson Ridge.

Apperson's attorney Joseph Joiner said yesterday's scheduled sale of a portion of the 2,500-acre ranch was postponed for two weeks. "We got an additional period of time pending a loan application," said Joiner.

He declined to elaborate on the source of the loan.

Apperson was to sell enough of the ranch to satisfy a three-year-old, $86,000 court judgement awarded attorneys of his late father's estate.

Joiner was granted a two month continuance to yesterday under mutual agreement with claimants Hanson, Bridges and Market of San Francisco. He said then that he thought the money could be found and the sale avoided.

Selling part of the land would alter the conditions under which Apperson is being allowed to develop the guest ranch. Plans call for development of 145 acres of the northern 1,300 acres of the spread. The remainder, according to the county's conditions, must remain in open space.

If Apperson were forced to sell the surrounding parcels, he could not guarantee compliance with that condition of the county permit.

The loan apparently will thwart attempts by the Preserve Area Ridgelands Committee (PARC) to get the East Bay Regional Parks District to buy the property.

PARC and others sued the scion of the Apperson - Hearst family and the county to cut off any development of the ridge. While their suit was unsuccessful, they have appealed through state courts.

At best, the appeal will not be heard for about a year.

Apperson would build 322 guest cottages surrounded by a tennis center, health spa, youth camp, restaurants and equestrian trail on his "Diamond A Ranch."

Too loud? Too bad— no dough

Because of concerns expressed about the noise level at a recent Amador Valley High rock concert, the Amador district school board has agreed to institute specific noise level limits for all future dances and rock concerts at district facilities.

And while the trustees are turning down the amps, students at Foothill High School are asking for a one-month trial period of a designated smoking area.

Students reporting to the school board Tuesday said the smoking area is seen as a way to cut smoking in school restrooms. If implemented, students using the designated smoking area would need parental approval to do so.

Foothill student representatives reporting said they had tried signs saying "No Smoking" and "Breathing Area" in the restrooms but it didn't help much.

Board president pro-tem Wayne Barnes asked the students to return to the next meeting with a specific proposal the board can act on.

In reporting on the noise level, Amador assistant principal Tom Himmelberg said maximum noise level at future dances and rock concerts could not exceed 97 decibels (standard for occupational noise exposure, division of industrial safety). Failure to comply, said Himmelberg, would result in non-payment to the band and the dance could be stopped, if necessary.

Bands would be informed in advance about sound regulations in order to get their cooperation.

To accurately monitor the decibel level, a decibel meter will be used at all dances and rock concerts, and the administrator in charge of the activity will monitor the sound level.

The noise level maximum will be stated in the contract between the band and the school.

Action to monitor the noise level came after a meeting Himmelberg had with the Amador executive council, school nurse Maxine Spruiell and district substitute nurse Charlotte Severin.

The school nurses reviewed a study done by the Acalanes School District (Lafayette) in which the physiological effects of loud noise were reviewed. The nurses discussed the hazards of loudness so that members of the student leadership group might better understand why stricter regulation of noise is necessary.

Dublin and Foothill High Schools have been sent copies of the Acalanes study and the Amador regulations.

In othe business Tuesday, trustees reviewed a community services expenditure report in the amount of $109,584. The monies are for sites, buildings and improvements.

Trustees approved expenditure of $5,327.44 for an electrical emergency at Dublin High School in early September. Maintenance personnel discovered shorts in lines to the home economics room. Two cables in a three-cable system had deteriorated.

An agreement with the Pleasanton AAU Swim Club was approved, the district to receive weights valued at $1,000 in exchange for use of the Amador pool through the remainder of the school year.

A contract with the Federal Correctional Center was ratified and a contract for 1976-77 approved.

The Amador Valley High library addition is now 45 per cent complete and trustees were told the workmanship on the job "has greatly improved."

No progress was reported on the Foothill High School lighting project.

Trustees tabled a ratification vote on the teachers contract inasmuch as teachers had turned down the tentative agreement earlier Tuesday by a 115-66 vote.

Labor hearing averted

LIVERMORE — The National Labor Relations Board yesterday indefinitely postponed its hearing into alleged unfair labor practices by the Tri-Valley Cab Co. after a tentative "out-of-court" settlement was reportedly reached.

An NLRB spokesman said the board acted only as a mediator in bringing the two sides to terms, averting a hearing that was to be held today at the Livermore Recreation Center.

The case involves four former drivers for the company, who were allegedly fired for participating in strike activities in May.

The NLRB intervened after a complaint from the out-of-work drivers was received. The board decided to conduct a full hearing into the matter after reviewing information available to it.

The drivers staged a walk-out May 17 in protest of the allegedly deteriorating conditions of the cabs. They said the cabs were unsafe to the public.

The agreement reportedly consists of a cash settlement to the drivers. The drivers reportedly signed a waiver for reinstatement to their jobs and will not be re-hired.

A spokesman for the cab company was unavailable for comment.

Crash victim critical

PLEASANTON — A 17 - year - old Stockton youth is in critical condition after the car in which he was riding went out of control and vaulted over the Bernal Avenue off-ramp from Interstate 680 late Tuesday, the highway patrol reported.

According to reports, Miguel Vega, 19, of 415 West Third St. in Stockton was driving northbound on 680 about 11:50 p.m. Tuesday when he lost control of the car. It went off the road and jumped the off-ramp, traveling 500 feet before stopping.

Miguel and his brother, Aaron, 17, were taken to Valley Memorial Hospital. Miguel was treated for minor injuries and released.

Aaron was transferred to Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek where his condition is listed as critical.

The accident is under investigation.

Private sewer system

Request considered

A long-time Valley landowner is asking the Zone 7 water management board to oversee a private sewage disposal system for a proposed 57-acre, 300-unit apartment complex just beyond the Livermore city boundary.

The board has shyed away from taking a stand on sewage disposal problems, leaving those decisions to the cities or other agencies. Zone 7 technically has the potential for supervising all water management decisions in this part of the county.

Chester Andersen, whose family has owned the property for 80 years, asked that he be allowed to set up a private sewage treatment plant to support the proposed development.

He cited the present unavailability of sewer connection permits, and said that when permits are issued again in five to eight years they would probably be restricted to developments within the city limits.

Andersen said he would pay all costs resulting from the plant's construction, and added that the Zone 7 board could modify his request any way it wanted.

A similar request was made by Carl Nipper for his proposed housing development in Sunol. Zone 7 directors did not act on that proposal.

County supervisors have approved the use of septic tanks when sewer connections were not available to developers in the past in unincorporated areas . This alternative is drying up quickly, however, as septic tank approval becomes harder to get.

Zone 7 General Manager Mun Mar said he thought the proposal would probably be forwarded to a committee to further study the matter. The board will consider Andersen's request at its regular meeting Wednesday, Nov. 17 at 8 p.m. at the Del Valle Treatment Plant, 601 Vallecitos Road.

The Zone 7 board will hold a special meeting Monday night to consider storage, future facilities and replacement costs of present equipment to determine a formula for setting water rates in the future. Time and place have not been announced.

Recycling county waste

Take a ton of memos, Miss Jones

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — Paperwork, the bane of every bureaucracy, will produce a self-supporting spinoff industry in the county that can reshuffle 400 to 700 tons of office waste paper per year, says county supervisor Joseph Bort, while saving energy, protecting natural resources and adding life to landfill sites.

Under Bort's instigation, and with the full board's approval, county administrator Loren Enoch will work with "Resource Reuse Consultant" Terry Harrison in developing a program to recycle office waste paper from the vast mines of the county's bureaucracy. Bort says the program will tie up a "minimum of personnel time and administrative costs" and can be "seeded" with federal revenue sharing funds.

Waste paper — between 400 and 700 tons per year from county offices — would be sold for recycling with the proceeds "more than covering the cost of the program," claims Bort.

Two years ago Bort backed another Harrison proposal to recycle wine bottles. "Encore!," as it is known, was started with revenue sharing money in February, 1975, according to Bort, and "they have never come back for more funding."

Harrison, who also set up a newspaper pickup program in Berkeley and has served as a consultant on solid waste system studies, says the program could be developed in 60-days.

Some off, some on Thursday, formerly observed universally as Veterans Day, will be a holiday for all students and staff members in the Amador Valley Joint High School and Pleaanton Joint School Districts.

However, regular days will be observed in the Livermore Valley and San Ramon Valley Unified School Districts as well as the Chabot Valley Campus.

The Murray School District has scheduled Thursday as a minimum day with parent conferences on tap.

The Postal Service, as did most school districts, observed Oct. 25 as Veterans Day and it'll be business as usual this Thursday.

County boosts its lobbyist, D.C. office

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — The county's Washington, D.C., lobbyist will get a 13 per cent pay hike and more money for a leased car in his new, two-year pay and fringe benefits package, while the county will spend an additional $2,700 to staff it's National Association of County's office in the Capitol.

Legislative representative Kenneth Wade's salary will climb from $30,546 per year to $34,548 under the contract approved unanimously this week by county supervisors. Reimbursement for his leased car goes from $131.50 per month to $150.

Wade's old, two-year contract expires next week.

Additionally, the cost of operating its NACO offices will jump some $2,700 to $28,380 for 1977, a 10.5 per cent increase. The NACO contract covers secretarial help, office supplies, parking, an automobile, office space and equipment and furnishings for the county's Washington, D.C., office.

Wade's contract also calls for a salary adjustment next July "by the same percentage as that approved for county management employes," according to county administrator Loren Enoch's memo.

The county's rank and file employes struck for seven weeks this summer over what they alleged were high increases in management pay that were not matched in employes' new salaries. They eventually settled at about a 6 per cent pay and fringe benefits increase.

Mori promotes trade hearing he'll chair

An interim hearing on how international trade affects the state economy will be held tomorrow in Long Beach, Assemblyman Floyd Mori, chairman of the Assembly Subcommittee on Employment and Economic Development announced today.

Noting that international trade may account for as much as 10 per cent of the jobs in California, Mori said the hearing will examine the importance of foreign trade and determine what role the state should play in encouraging it.

"Several states have active and aggressive international trade programs and have been successful promoting exports abroad as well as attracting foreign investment," Mori said. "California is the only major state without a trade program."

Expanding trade as a method of combating the state's unemployment problem will be one of the main topics under discussion. "Businessmen tell me that many trade opportunities are lost in California because of lack of information and coordination of trade efforts in the private sector," Mori said.

Guthrie leads SR win

ALAMO — Dublin High fell victim to the infallible serving of Kathleen Guthrie yesterday as San Ramon knocked the Gaels out of playoff contention, 15-9, 15-9, in East Bay Athletic League girls' volleyball.

San Ramon faces Monte Vista tonight at 7 p.m. at Dublin High School for the North Coast Section playoff spot. Chances are likely the loser of the game will go too, in an at-large berth.

"It was tough to come back and play a game today after what happened last night," Dublin coach Sue Shoemaker said, referring to Tuesday's three-set loss to Monte Vista that forced the three - way tie. "We can just pack it up and call it a season."

Dublin's excellent season fizzled into memories in the strange second game, where the Gaels blew a 9-4 lead after coming back from a disastrous first game.

San Ramon started their comeback on a single serve point by Nancy Kerlinger and Debbie Lloyd's spike to make it 9-5.

After the teams exchanged volleys, Guthrie went to work on the Gaels with her hard, low serve.

Guthrie picked up four points to tie at 9-9, on two slap spikes by Lloyd and a pair of long spikes by Donna Gallagher.

After a Gael timeout, Guthrie proceeded with her unyielding serve. The score went to 13-9, without a Dublin return, forcing Shoemaker to try and regroup her players.

But Guthrie's ensuing serve hit ground before touching any Gael for 14-9. Her winning serve was returned by Dublin's Joanne Callender, but the ball hit the ceiling and rebounded away from the Gaels, giving the Wooves the two-set win.

"That's the best serving she's done," San Ramon coach Mary Ann Paz said of Guthrie. "She's missed maybe two serves all year, but that was the best I've seen her do as far as hitting the ball and keeping it low."

Paz, whose Wolves entered the game as slight underdogs to the more experienced Gaels, was overwhelmed with her team's attitude.

"The fact that the girls never gave up impressed me," Paz said. "Jenny Cartano was a fantastic setter today. She doesn't get much glory, but you can't spike unless you have a good setter."

The way Guthrie was serving, you wouldn't think San Ramon needed to set and spike. But their first game win relied on more teamwork.

Guthrie, who served for a total of 12 second game points, utilized her puzzling serve likewise in the first game, scoring seven points.

Her first five serves gave the Wolves a quick 5-0 lead. But the Gaels slowly mounted a comeback and pulled to within 8-6 at one point.

Failure to win the first set has caused Dublin trouble all year, but yesterday they furiously fought back to try and take the set.

Carol Allen slipped in a "knuckle" spike, one that is used by small front-line players, and Callender and Kathie Center added key spikes to pull closer to the Wolves.

With the score now 9-8, Guthrie picked up two crucial serve points to give San Ramon an 11-8 lead and with it, the momentum.

After Linda Doyal picked up a serve point for Dublin, Janet Raventos came off the bench to slice four consecutive serves into Dublin's court, scoring on all of them and giving the Wolves a 15-9 win.

Dave Weber, Editor

Dublin roared to 6-2 and 9-4 leads in the second set behind the strong servings of Finco and Center, along with Callender's and Karen Jewell's teamwork on setting up and spiking.

The Wolves set up Guthrie's serving rampage by letting one of Center's speedy serves slip by the side of the court and out of bounds.

Monte Vista coach Nancy Eyler was on hand at the game and expects tough competition from the Wolves in today's finale.

"San Ramon's a scrappy team," Eyler commented. We beat them both times we played them, but they've been tough games both times."

SR wins title

AV, Mustangs fight to tie

While Amador Valley and Monte Vista high schools struggled to an exciting 78-78 tie San Ramon rolled over Foothill 84-37 to cinch the East Bay Athletic League girls' swimming championship yesterday afternoon.

Going into yesterday's competition Amador, Monte Vista and the Wolves were tied for the title with one loss each. However, the Don-Mustang tie gave the title to San Ramon.

For a while at Amador's pool yesterday it appeared Monte Vista would share the title with the Wolves but a strong 1-2 finish by the Dons in the 400-yard freestyle relay knotted the score and eliminated each team's hopes of the title or a share of it.

Monte Vista had a 76-66 edge going into the freestyle relay but the Dons' first team of Michelle Benson, Sue Robertson, Linda Fox and Jan Davidson came through with a sparkling 4:16.9 time for the victory. The other Amador team of Donna Scholl, Kim Caroline, Terri Campbell and Katie Fleischer swam to a 4:24.5 clocking for second place.

Amador got an excellent effort from Davidson. Jan won the 200-yard freestyle in 2:11.4 and was second in the 100-yard butterfly with a 1:01.0 clocking. Noreen Doyas of Monte Vista was first with a 1:00.4 time.

Another outstanding performance was turned in by Fleischer.

The Don star won the 100-yard freestyle in 58.5 and the 50-yard freestyle in 25.8 besides her lap on the second place freestyle relay team.

Noreen and Carol Doyas supplied most of the spark for the Mustangs. Both swam on the winning medley relay team. Carol took seconds in the 50-yard freestyle and the 100-yard freestyle. Noreen added her final win in the 100-yard backstroke with a 1:06.3 clocking.

Amador coach Lynn Alexander said the results did not suprise her.

"We had it figured out that the meet would be either a tie or a one-point difference either way," she said. "Swimming is not like basketball where you can't project how you will do. In our sport you can get a better idea of the final score before the meet."

San Ramon won all eight of the events contested in gaining the dual-meet title. Neither team swam the final event, the freestyle relay.

Amador's junior varsity licked Monte Vista 77-64. There was no junior varsity match held in the San Ramon - Foothill meet.

The Tri-Valley Squirt A ice hockey team came up with the easist win it'll ever get Sunday, when its opponent, Belmont failed to field enough legal players.

The Midget A's fared worse on the Sabbath, dropping a 12-0 game to SunValley as Greg Hickey was forced to handle 60 shots for the injury plagued Tri-Valley club.

Saturday, E.J. Rankin's four goals weren't enough to dispel a 7-6 Marin win over the looal Mite AA team. Donovan Padgett and Jeff Nichols had the other goals while Frank Blancas had two assists and Brian Clancy and Frankie Zagarella one each Bobby Long had 23 saves in goal.

Sun Valley blanked the T-V Squirt AA's, 3-0, as Mike Lang managed to turn away 23 shots.

Shawn Picotte's hat trick provided the margin of difference as the PeeWee AA's dropped Marin, 5-2. Mike Merrick and Duke Chaves added the other goals. Chaves had three assists as Sonny Delk had two and Picotte one.

Phil Patrick and John Ulrich shared the netminding duties and were Faced with 16 shots.

Santa Clara whipped the Bantam A's, 5-2, as Craig Collin and Terry Montanez scored the goals. Bart Schoefer and Ken Stevens had assists.

Steve Robello had 17 saves in goal.

Santa Rosa beat Tri-Valley, 4-0, in Midget AA competition with goalie Greg Hickey stopping 22 shots for T-V.

Kane picked

Rick Kane, former Amador Valley High star, was named University Division offensive player of the week by the Northern California Football writers.

Kane carried the ball 21 times for 125 yards but his San Jose State team fell to San Diego State, 30-17 on the winners' field.

Tri-Valley edges Spikes in thriller

Good floor play by Marion Horstmeyer and Joanne Thorpe propelled Tri-Valley past the Sugar and Spikes, 15-10, 15-12 and 12-15 in Valley Communtiy Services District volleyball play recently.

Sue Churchill led Tri-Valley in serve-scoring while Carolyn McMillian paced the Spikes.

The 17ers came back after falling to the Silly Servers, 15-9, in the first game to win the last two, 15-11, 15-9, as Rosie Visperas led the winners. Laura Alley paced the losers.

After ropping the first game, 15-7, Round Table One took two 15-6 games in a row from the Dirty Dozen. Pat Escoto and Peg Scherwinka were the backbone of the Round Table attack while Lonny Warner was outstanding for the Dozen.

Snap-on tools salvaged the final game after Easy Over had gone ahead with two wins in their tight, 19-17, 15-9, 13-15 contest. Byrdie Nieir, Jeanne Fitzgerald and Sharon Krane led Snap-On's late rally while Marlis Mara and Bobbie Ricarde served well for EO.

Linda Stockert did well serving in all three games as Swensen's took a split decision win, 13-15, 15-9, 15-8 over the Jumpers , who worked well together.

QB, kicker win Flecto awards

Simon Schaffer of American of Fremont and College Park's Butch Brooks are the Flecto Sports Awards winners for Alameda and Contra Costa counties, respectively this week.

Schaffer booted field goals of 25, 49 and 50 yards to help American overcome Kennedy, 23-20. The 50-yarder came with 27 seconds left in the contest and broke a tie.

The American place kicker came from England two years ago and is in his second year of football. He has also hit on 18 straight PATS and is a starter in the American defensive backfield.

Brooks, a quarterback, hit on 10 of 16 passes for 158 yards and had eight tackles on defense for the Falcons. College Park defeated Antioch 35-18 to cinch its first-ever Diablo Valley Athletic League championship.

Greg Ross of San Ramon High was a nominee for the Contra Costa award as he scored five goals for the Wolves' water polo team in its 12-8 victory over Clayton Valley in the finals of the Independent Water Polo League Invitational last Saturday.

Rich Gildea of Livermore was an nominee for the Alameda County prize as he led the Cowboys to a 42-0 win over Monte Vista. Rich completed eight of 14 passes for 145 yards and four touchdown passes. He also ran four times for 14 yards.

A bricked-up portion of the Exchange building in Charleston, S.C., served for two years as the hiding place for patriot gunpowder in the British-held city. During the British occupation the Exchange was the notorious Provost Dungeon where hundreds of Charleston's citizens were imprisoned in cramped vaults for the slightest hint of patriot support, The World Almanac notes.

State school tests

Reading slump halt

A decline in the scores of California's 12th graders in reading, writing and mathematics has been reversed, Wilson Riles, state Superintendent of Public Instruction, told members of the state Board of Education yesterday.

The improved scores for the state's high school seniors, accompanied by a continuation of improved scores in other grades tested, were disclosed in the results of the 1975-76 testing effort conducted by the California Assessment Program.

California tests involved all of the state's 1.15 million second, third, sixth and 12th grade pupils.

"The scores at all four grade levels were better in all subjects tested than in 1974-75," Riles said.

Other highlights of the test results:

— Reading scores were up 2 per cent for sixth graders, up 0.6 per cent for 12th graders, up 0.1 per cent for both second and third graders.

— Math scores were up 2.4 per cent for sixth graders and up 1.6 per cent for 12th graders.

— Written expression scores were up 0.9 per cent for sixth graders and up 0.7 per cent for 12th graders.

"Improved scores for our sixth graders in 1975-76 are particularly significant," Riles pointed out, "because they confirm the upward trends reported by test results in 1974-75. Between 1969-70 and 1973-74, a steady, year-after-year decline has been reported."

Scores for reading at both the second and third grade were estimated to be slightly above the national average.

Riles said the areas of strength in reading for California's second and third grade pupils are the same as in 1974-75: Phonetic analysis, synonyms and comprehension. Areas of weakness also remained the same: Word meanings and the meanings of roots, prefixes and suffixes.

The primary grades reading assessment advisory committee, a group of reading authorities appointed by the California State Department of Education, noted that these weaknesses deserve special mention because they can cause serious reading difficulties for youngsters in later years.

Additional emphasis needs to be placed on the development of vocabulary skills at the second and third grade level, the committee said.

Another committee, set up to analyze and interpret the reading results for sixth and 12 graders, said it was satisfied with the ability of sixth graders to answer questions about explicitly-stated material, but it was dissatisfied with their performance in all other areas.

It recommended additional emphasis at the upper elementary levels in these skills: How to find and use reference materials such as a dictionary; recognizing the meaning of roots, prefixes and suffixes; developing knowledge of word meanings and the meaning and use of connecting words (such as and, on, but, because, however); how to interpret, evaluate and make inferences based on information and ideas stated in written material. This last skill also needs more emphasis to improve the reading skills of 12th grade pupils, the committee said.

The results indicate that California's average sixth grade pupil had a reading score slightly above the national average and the state's average 12th grader had a score lower than the national average.

Test results in writing showed that the states sixth and 12th grade pupils continue to score below the national average as indicated by test publishers' norms.

A committee of writing authorities, after studying the test results, said sixth grade pupils displayed a "respectable command" of most written expression skill areas, including word forms, standard English usage, language choices, sentence recognition, and sentence manipulation. Weaknesses were spotted in punctuation, capitalization and the ability to identify the most specific, effective word within the context of a sentence. Similar weaknesses were noted in 12th grade pupils.

Bargaining unit leads

Data released by the California Teachers Association indicates that CTA and National Education Association (NEA) affiliates are getting the best of the California Federation of Teachers/American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) in the battle over who is going to represent teachers at the bargaining table.

Since last April, some 104,442 teachers so far have selected 567 local CTA/NEA chapters to represent them as exclusive bargaining agents compared with CFT/AFT's nine locals representing about 2,269, according to CTA.

Voluntary recognition elections won by independent groups totals two, including one by the Professional Educators Group (PEG) with 39 members.

CTA President Stephen H. Edwards, Jr. reports that the voluntary recognitions include nine districts where the CFT/AFT intervenor withdrew from an election in favor of the CTA/NEA majority unit. The districts are Capistrano Unified, Chula Vista, Mount Diablo Unified, West Covina Unified, Milpitas Unified, Santa Cruz, Fontana Unified, San Bruno Elementary, and San Leandro Unified. School boards have withdrawn from "no representation" elections in Coronado Unified and South San Francisco Unified.

"The voluntary selection of CTA/NEA affiliates by teachers plus the election victories bear out our contention that California's teachers identify with the 150,000-member CTA and 1.8 million member NEA. Teachers expect results at the bargaining table, in grievances and in the political arena. They know CTA/NEA can deliver," Edwards declared.

He pointed out that CTA/NEA are staffed with experts in negotiations, school finance, education and labor law, public relations, insurance, salary, budget, curriculum, legislation, health, economic, and other services.

Livermore lunches will go on wheels

LIVERMORE — A new Chevrolet van has been received by the Livermore Valley Unified School District as part of the non-food assistance program under the Federal Child Nutrition Act of 1966.

The half-ton van, equipped with a safety gate, was purchased for $5,598 with Federal funds. The district's share was $98.

Food Services Director Mary Deutschman says that the van will be used to deliver food to Rancho Las Positas, Christensen, Sunset East II and Del Valle schools.

The State has ruled that all California schools must have a lunch program in effect by September of 1977.

Straight talk for parents

LIVERMORE — "I just can't get THROUGH to that kid!"

If you find yourself saying that a lot lately, consider investing a Saturday in learning how to express yourself more forcefully.

"Straight Talk" is a workshop being offered this Saturday, 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., on techniques for effective verbal, eye and touch communication.

The public is invited to the workshop for a $5 fee. It is being sponsored by the Buenas Vidas Youth Ranch and will be held at the scenic ranch at 5301 Arroyo Road.

Mike Petrillo, licensed marriage and family counselor, will lead the workshop, gearing it to family life and work with youth.

Pre - registration is not necessary; just show up at the ranch at 9:30, bag lunch in hand.

Foothill CSF ceremony

PLEASANTON — The Foothill High School chapter of the California Scholarship Federation will hold its fall installation ceremony Nov. 23 at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Barbara Mertes, Dean of the Chabot College Valley Campus, will be the featured speaker. Dr. Mertes will be speaking about the Valley Campus, its growth and programs for the year 1976-77.

Installation ceremonies will be held for those students who qualified for CSF during spring semester of 1976. Election of officers and the presentation of the CSF Scholarship Program will follow Dr. Mertes' presentation.

Don Landers, chapter sponsor, extends a special invitation to attend to parents, teachers and former members of CSF.

The cost of heating a house is still going up.

Hot air rises, too. And that's why the attic is often where most home heat-loss takes place.

Just insulating an unfinished attic up to R-19, the recommended standard, can save up to 25% of the heat you use. And you'll enjoy greater comfort.

The cost of insulating an attic is probably less than you think. For instance, if you get a qualified contractor such as a member of the Insulation Contractors Association to do it, in a typical California house it should cost about $300 to $400. Even less if you do it yourself.

So send for our free Insulation Booklet. It tells you, in easy-to-understand words and pictures, all you need to know about insulation. It tells you how to check whether your attic insulation is adequate, and if not, what to do about it and how to do it.

PG&E wants to help you save energy and keep your bills from going out of sight. So get the facts. What you don't know can cost you. And that's not hot air. PG and E

By Arline Butterfield

One hundred and sixty five strong, they come from as far away as Tracy, Fremont and Hayward, as well as Livermore and Pleasanton, to their monthly dinner meetings and to participate in their many activities connected with the promotion of beef.

Pat Lund, the outgoing president of the Alameda County CowBelles flicked an ash off her little cigar as she spoke with enthusiasm of the organization of women who go to great lengths of work and fun to cultivate and encourage the use of beef in Alameda County.

"The main objective of the CowBelles (auxiliary of the Cattlemen's Association) is to promote beef by giving demonstrations on how to cook beef, and through numerous other activities. We work alot with the high school home economics departments and the Future Farmers of America. We give five high schools in this area $25 per year to purchase beef to cook in their classes. Also, the CowBelles purchase steers for three Future Farmers of America students to raise. We give numerous demonstrations for organizations in the valley. Cooking demonstrations and how to cut beef, how to take the cheaper cuts of beef and make tasty meals of it.

"We hold several fundraisers during the year, a social in February, a dinner-dance at the fairgrounds, a big money maker, a country fair in Livermore at the Rod and Gun Club in September to which the members contribute cakes, cookies, homemade items, boutique type handmade gifts and crocheting. Each lady this year hand-embroidered a quilt square with their family's brand on it, and then these were sewn together into a quilt which was auctioned off to raise money." Pat Lund's own brand is the Circle L after her family's ranch.

"My husband's family have all been in the cattle business for years. I was introduced to it when I married Vic. He majored in animal husbandry and agriculture at U.C. Davis. When he graduated we returned to the family ranch at Pleasanton in 1958.

"The reason I joined the CowBelles is my father-in-law was president of the Cattlemen's Association at that time, and Vic was active also so I joined the CowBelles, an auxiliary of that organization."

Pat Lund has a western look about her. There is something relaxed and easy-going about the lady's demeanor. She lives on a the Circle L Ranch with her husband Vic and her two boys, Mike, 15, who is active in Future Farmers at Amador High School, and Jeffry, 14, an 8th grader who is in 4-H. This year the two boys will take breeding animals (registered angus) to the fair and will also raise a steer (cross breed) for selling at the fair. Pat has worked for the City of Pleasanton for 16 years as an accounting supervisor.

"During fair time the CowBelles are really busy. We host the Cattle Buyers Barbeque, when all the buyers come in for the auction. We sponsor several showmanship classes in beef for 4-H and Future Farmers. We present four $25 bonds to outstanding youth in breeding and for raising championship animals.

Joan Madsen

"Ranch life is a great life, a great way to raise children. It's tough for the small man to hold on. The small family ranches are going out. It's very costly." The speaker was Joan Madsen who was chosen CowBelle of the Year at a recent meeting of the Alameda County CowBelles.

The city dweller, born in Oakland and having moved to Livermore at the age of nine, discovered ranch life when she married Louis Madsen. She thoroughly enjoys ranch life. She says it is a very busy life, sometimes very frustrating, especially during the drought of the past year, waiting for the rain to come down, but a very rewarding life.

Joan joined the CowBelles in 1965 and has been an active member since that time, both locally and on the state level. She is state membership chairman at he present time. She is active in promoting the consumption of beef whenever possible.

Joan says the beef business is in trouble the past year, that many of the ranches in the valley sold out. The Madsens sold most of their cattle this past year so that they wouldn't have to buy hay, since the price has gone up so high. She and her husband work at other jobs, but Joan wonders how the small ranches totally dependent on the cattle business are making it.

she has found the CowBelles to be a very interesting organization the past ten years. She finds the people she meets through the organization to be very congenial.

The Crane Ridge 4-H Club has been fortunate to have Joan for a community club leader. She was previously their beef leader. Her two children, David, age 13, and Annette, age 11, are both active in the 4-H club.

In addition to the cattle raising organizations and ranch life, Joan has worked at Sandia Corporation for 17 years and is presently a graphics programmer. She deals with computer graphics, digitizing and plotting printed wiring boards and integrated circuits, making the masters for printed circuit boards. Livermore is the place where electrical schematics and beef cattle promotion meet, in the person of Joan Madsen, CowBelle of the Year.

Diane Andrade

Diane Andrade will take over the reins of the CowBelles from Pat Lund for the coming year. She too, has long been active in the CowBelles, having joined 20 years ago. The family ranch is Andrade Brothers Livestock on Tesa Road, with lands on Cedar Mountain and Mines Road.

Her two daughters share their parents' interest in cattle raising. The elder daughter won the Grand Championship steer at the fair, and the younger daughter was Rodeo Queen in 1974 and a hostess at the Hayward Rodeo. She is her father's right-hand "man" in the cattle business, according to Diane.

Diane's plans for the CowBelles for the coming year include the continuation of making donations to home economics departments of the valley high schools, and the continuation of the Future Farmers of America awards at three high schools. At each school, the CowBelles give $200 to one student to buy a steer, a $50 feed award and a $25 feed award.

On Father and Mother's Day, the first baby born on those days will win for it's parents a beef gift certificate.

The riding group will participate in six or seven parades during the year, and the CowBelles will give their usual demonstrations before all types of organizations, schools and churches of beef cooking and cutting techniques.

Red lights and satin

Vic Trigger rocks out Saturday

"Don't expect to see some teacher-type wearing double knits and a turtleneck," warns Vic Trigger. "I'm going to rock out in my satin and velvet, set a groove and take the audience there on a slide."

Vic, who grew up in Livermore, is as comfortable decked out Winterland - style doing wild, high energy rock improvisations as he is studying the psychology of music education in a studio with a young guitar student.

His audience at the concert coming to Livermore Saturday at Dania Hall will be treated to the flip side of this highly versatile musician.

"The music for this concert is specially designed to turn on a large audience. There's improvisation galore, but it's very danceable," Vic explains. "All the music is original, no one's ever heard the arrangements before. We also use a lot of humorous and crazy stunts to keep the audience entertained."

Advance tickets to the concert are sold-out as of this date, but a limited number will be available at the door for $3 per person beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Vic, a guitarist, leads a band featuring headliners such as Kip Haaheim (of B.F. Crisp) on bass and Waldo the Squid on drums, so called because he plays "like he has eight arms." Saturday they will produce what Vic refers to as "heavy red-light sound."

Vic is frequently involved in half a dozen bands simultaneously — B.F. Crisp recently, a serious avant garde jazz quartet, his own band, a quartet which will provide backup for the rock cantata "The Creation" with the Clayton Valley High School choir, and other recording groups.

Just completed by Vic are five one-minute recordings to be used in radio ads at Christmastime for Guitar Player Magazine, each in a different style to fit different radio station images — rock, classical, folk, country and jazz. He can climb into all styles.

The 25-year-old, Phi Beta Kappa graduate of U.C. Berkeley is present director of guitar studies at Curtis School of Music and a consultant for Guitar Player and Contemporary Keyboard magazines. A new book in the offing, "British Rock Guitar," will be edited by Vic Trigger.

Student of developmental psychology as it relates to music education, Vic is fascinated by the challenge of helping youngsters learn music in the way that comes most naturally to their age group. He has taught for nine years and still finds it exciting.

Yet the thrill of playing music at gut level and grooving with the convulsive mass of dancers — and the lure of fame and fortune — beckon. The trial - run of Vic's new concert program Saturday may be just the beginning.

Folk music

Special entertainment for the Nov. 11 meeting of the Livermore Valley Folk Music Club will be "The Bluegrass Hoppers" of Tracy.

The public is welcome to the 7:30 p.m. informal gathering, and invited to bring an instrument to perform bluegrass, country or western music at the Unitarian Fellowship House in Livermore, 4260 First St.

Symphony plans opening concert

Sixteen new members will enhance the upcoming season for the Livermore - Amador Symphony.

The season opens with a Dec. 4 concert at the Presbyterian Church in Livermore featuring an original composition for orchestra by Livermore's acclaimed Tom Darter, and a Copland concerto for orchestra with Clarinetist Phyllis Jane Harding of Livermore.

Season tickets are now available at $8.50 for adults, $4 for youth and senior citizens, and a special $20 rate for families. Admission to the symphony's four concerts are included with all season ticket purchases or donations over $35.

The public is welcome to attend final auditions for the upcoming youth concerto contest free of charge Sunday, Nov. 14 at Livermore High's choral room. Conductor Arthur Barnes and a judge from outside the valley will choose a youth soloist for the January concerto during the 7:30 p.m. audition. All finalists will be heard with piano accompaniment.

Valley Artists

The Valley Artists will host a members - only showing of mixed media art at Dublin's Liberty House from Nov. 13 through Nov. 20. Chairperson for the event is Lois Ward of San Ramon.

Paintings on display during store hours are offered for sale. For further information concerning Valley Artists contact Mary Langham at 846-5717.

Artique attraction

Portrait of the liberated woman of the 19th Century is this captivating handmade doll, just one of 40 original designs featured at a booth at the Artique coming Nov. 12, 13 and 14 at the Alameda County Fairgrounds Exhibition Hall. The dolls are creations of Mary Jones of Long Island, N.Y., whose daughter, Irene McMillan of Pleasanton, will be among 150 participants in the large-scale show and sale of art, crafts and antiques. Coordinators of the event are Billie Schmer and Phyllis Wentworth of Pleasanton who have planned entertainment, refreshments and drawings for door prizes as well. Hours of the sale are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and Sunday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Whether you are a collector or just looking, the annual Christmas art exhibition and auction sponsored by the Pleasanton Jaycees may be worth your attention Friday, Nov. 12 at Shannon Community Center in Dublin. Anticipating the show of original lithographs, etching, graphics, watercolors and oil paintings provided by Robert Sills Gallery is Co-chairman Tom Henry. A champagne preview at 7 p.m. will be followed by the auction at 8:30. Guests receive a catalogue of auction items and bank charge cards will be accepted in payment. Donation of $1.50 per person benefits community projects of the Jaycees such as Christmas parties for senior citizens, Christmas baskets for the needy, 'Call Santa' for children, and the Amador High basketball tournament.

Multiple categories in the Pleasanton Art League's up - coming "Art-A-Plenty" competition will provide Bay Area artists with ample opportunity to present their best work.

The Cultural Arts Center, 4477 Black Ave., will open its doors Nov. 18 from 7 to 10 p.m. to receive entries for the Nov. 20-21 public exhibit from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Original entries are limited to three per artist, and the categories will include oils, watercolors, pastels and graphics, sculpture and pottery, jewelry, textiles and mixed media. Late entries will be accepted if there is room according to Barbara Van Slyke who may be reached at 846-7327.

Competition will be judged by three well - known peers: Carole Austin, and Robert and Jane Nash.

Santa Rosa natives, the Nashes find time to not only judge many exhibits throughout California, but to enter many as well. Bob's watercolors have earned him numerous top prizes, and a recent honor included having a painting chosen for the American Watercolor Society Traveling Exhibition.

Bob's wife is also a professional artist who paints under her maiden name of Jane Dayton. Best known for her graphic ink paintings, Jane also finds time to teach oil painting classes and work on frequent two - artist shows with her husband.

A designer whose work often appears in such national magazines as Better Homes and Gardens and Family Circle, Carole Austin has earned a national reputation as an innovative craftswoman.

Most of Carole's award - winning work is in soft sculptures and dimensional mediums, such as fabric.

The flourishing in the past decade of multi - screen theaters has been the motion picture industry's boldest attempt to lure patrons away from TV sets and half - a - hundred other entertainment diversions.

But in some areas the theater chains are obviously overextending themselves. What with the escalating cost of obtaining first - run or good second - run films, the spread of "X" - rated films into suburban movie houses and the sophistication of feature - length films for TV, the chain or independent theater operator finds himself continually threatened with a red ink bath.

The overextending or unbridled optimism is in reference to the six - in - one movie complex opening tomorrow evening on Hesperian Boulevard in Hayward.

Barely a mile away on the same boulevard is another six - in - one operation and in between the two, adjacent to the Southland Shopping Center, is a three - in - one operation.

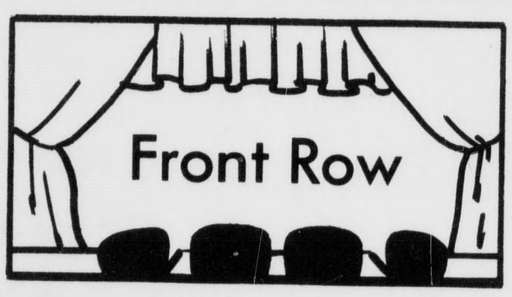
Thus, operators of these three houses are putting forth a collective 15 screening rooms that they hope will draw the public.

Good luck, gentlemen!

The multi - screen operation not only faces inordinate competition for the entertainment dollar from within the industry but from a multitude of other areas. Primarily television.

We would be willing to bet that the two - night presentation of "Gone With The Wind" Sunday and Monday kept added thousands tied to their TV sets.

Also vying and doubtlessly keeping more of the prospective movie audience at home was the feature length "21 Hours at Munich" shown Sunday night. It dramatized the Arab terrorist onslaught in the Israeli section of Munich's Olympic Village four years ago.



What movie house operators can do to bring patrons back (and keep the ones they have) is a complex question. Certainly, good films at prices the family and "date nighters" can afford is a must.

The Amador on Santa Rita Road in Pleasanton is doing this.

Most of the indoor and outdoor operations in the valley come up with consistently good film fare, but the competition for the entertainment dollar is fierce.

George Bernard Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple" opens Friday at the Chabot College Little Theatre in Hayward. Curtain time is 8:30.

Performances are also scheduled for Saturday and Nov. 18, 19 and 20. The run will close with a matinee at 3 p.m. on Nov. 21.

The story deals with Dick Dudgeon, a revolutionary American individualist, who is mistaken for the local Puritan minister and is arrested by the British to be hanged as a rebel.

The Amador Valley High School dramatists will present "You Can't Take It With You" Nov. 23 and 24 at the school auditorium.

On Dec. 2, 3 and 4, the California High School thespians have scheduled "The Night is My Enemy."

Ever wished for just one day to let the sights, sound and other sensations of life fill you to the brim?

A riotous celebration of life — that's "Hello, Dolly." The utter romance of the show has made it one of the most popular musicals of all time. No costumes can be too gorgeous, no set too grand, no performance too vivacious, no orchestration too splendid for "Hello, Dolly."

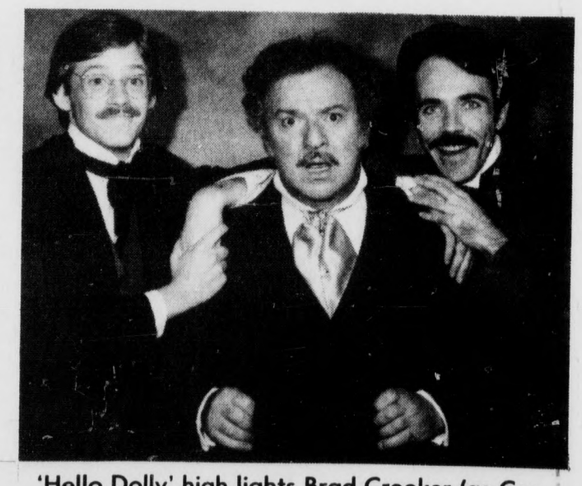
The Contra Costa Musical Theatre, under the direction of Pleasanton's own Don Wilson who also choreographed the show, is offering its version of "Hello, Dolly" through Nov. 27 every Friday and Saturday at the Walnut Creek Civic Arts Theatre. The production is worth an evening's good entertainment.

The story revolves around the fortunes of the wily, worldly - wise Dolly Gallagher Levi, on her way to Yonkers to arrange the marriage of Horace Vandergelder, famous "half-a-millionaire." Early in the show it is revealed that the lady has decided SHE is the one to happily fulfill the golden years of Vandergelder's life. The sprightly, bluff Nick Thomas is well-cast in the role of Vandergelder, alternately spouting indignation and surprise at Dolly's machinations and the escapades of his employes gone AWOL.

Brad Crooker and Terry Bohrer as those two clerks, Cornelius Hackl and Barnaby Tucker, positively steal the show with their shenanigans. Hackl, a starry-eyed romantic touched by love for the first time, is a perfect foil to his side-kick, Tucker, gushing and gaping at his first night out on the town with only $1.35 in his pocket. Terry Bohrer has a seemingly infinite variety of facial expressions and comic gestures at his command, while Crooker never misses a punchline. The exhuberant team manages some truly hilarious moments that will have you chuckling spontaneously and hard.

Alam Sayles as Irene Molloy again pulls the heartstrings of the audience as she did in the last CCMT season's "Show Boat" with her sensitive rendition of the bittersweet "Ribbons Down My Back." Pam Ossola is a light - hearted Minnie Fay. Pleasanton's Bruce Pruett puts in an appearance too.

The star of the show, Claire Hodgin as Dolly, was less than stellar. Her charm a shade too sweet and innocent for the worldly - wise, manipulating woman she portrayed. She seemed to have difficulty delineating the two sides of Dolly's personality — on one hand a keen - edged, self - sufficient woman, on the other hand a woman growing older and desperately needing to be loved by a man again.



'Hello Dolly' high lights Brad Crooker (as Cornelius Hackle), Nick Thomas (Horace Vandergelder) and Terry Bohrer (Barnaby Tucker).

For Thursday, Nov. 11, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Keep domestic problems within the confines of the family today. Outsiders will only complicate matters.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You'll lose momentum today if you team up with someone whose aims are not in harmony with yours. Select coworkers carefully.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your chances for gains today will come from that which you earn from the sweat of your brow. Don't look for it elsewhere.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're likely to treat casual acquaintances far more friendly than you will persons you're intimately involved with. Show consideration to all.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It will be difficult today to keep to yourself something told to you in confidence. You may talk to the wrong person.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In activities today where friends are involved, try to do things that won't cost money. Pleasures with a price tag will be less fun.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your chances for success today look good if something material is at stake. Commercial conditions awaken your clever instincts.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your first ideas are apt to be your best ones today. The longer you deliberate, the less you're likely to appreciate your brainchild.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Someone who offered you something is likely to rescind the proposal if you bring others into the act. Keep it just between yourselves.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You will have to be extremely diplomatic today with business associates, or someone is going to feel they got the short end.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Use your imagination today where your work is concerned. Experiment with new methods. Alternatives could work.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) Before becoming too deeply involved with someone you've recently met, try to learn more about this person. She may not be all she seems.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The bidding at table one in an IMP team match is that shown in the box.

West decided that South was prepared for a spade lead so he decided to lead some other suit. His choice was between clubs and hearts. When he finally settled for a heart, South gratefully ran off 10 tricks. This looked like a really good score, since a club lead would have set him four tricks.

It wasn't a good score. At the other table West elected to keep quiet about his spades and again South played in three notrump. This West opened a spade and somehow or other during the course of the play let go of a small heart so this declarer wound up by taking all 13 tricks.

For the benefit of those readers who are about to ask "What sort of second raters were playing here?", the match happened to be between the United States and Great Britain in a world's championship match.

Ask the Jacobys

A Wisconsin reader belongs to a group that plays six hands at a time rather than rubbers. She wants to know if there is a new cut deal if one side wins a rubber before the six hands are over.

The answer is that when you are to play a specified number of hands there is a cut for deal before the first hand is played, but then the deal passes in rotation until the specified number of hands are completed.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

Unincorporated burglary

Lesher News Bureau

MARTINEZ — Burglaries increased slightly in the county's unincorporated areas and cities contracting with the sheriff's office, an annual report shows.

Sheriff Harry Ramsay's report for the 1975-76 fiscal year shows burglaries increased by 175 cases to 3,556 or about one every 2.5 hours.

Ramsay's report shows the previous year's rate was one burglary every 2.6 hours.

It is the third successive annual increase in burglaries, although still below the decade high of 4,097, reached in 1971-72.

Ramsay's report, in addition to focusing on the increase in crime, features charts depicitng the fluctuating county jail inmate population, a breakdown of personnel by department, and statistics on the number of deputies injured in the line of duty.

A recent article on those injuries erroneously assumed that only 59 officers were assigned to single-man cars, with 17 more assigned to two-man cars.

That should have been the number of deputies injured while working in those cars last fiscal year compared to 53 in 1974-75 and 61 in 1972-73.

Forty more deputies were injured in other types of duty, the report stated.

Ramsay's report states that his departmental budget, while at an all-time high of $11.2 million, is only 5.5 per cent of the total county budget.

Larceny cases were slightly down from the preceding year with 4,837 cases being reported. This category includes petty, grand and bicycle thefts.

Rapes are down. Forty seven were reported last year.

Robberies were higher last year than in any previous year in the decade with 175 being reported, Ramsay said.

Of the 11 homicides reported, 10 were solved. Seventeen homicides were reported in 1974-75, with 11 being cleared.

Although the total number of marijuana offenses reported was lower than 1974-75, the overall drug total exceeded that year's level of 358 by 128.

The number of cases handled by the sheriff's coroner's division increased by 75 cases. The 1,267 deaths included 50 homicides, 93 suicides, 138 traffic deaths, 146 miscellaneous, and 840 natural deaths. Traffic and natural deaths were responsible for the increase, Ramsay said.

Only four fatal industiral accidents were reported last year, all males. Twenty-nine drownings and 35 accidental overdoses were also reported last year.

The report indicated the 21-30 age group was the most dangerous age with that group having the highest number of traumatic deaths, 110.

County closes up

Lesher News Bureau

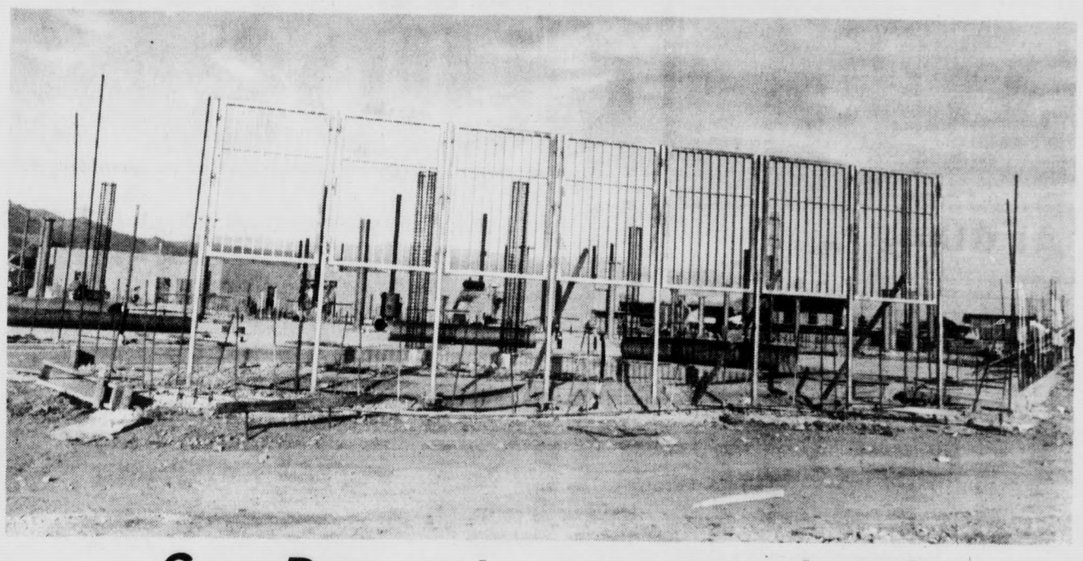
MARTINEZ--County and state offices, as well as some schools, will be closed Thursday as Veterans Day is observed one more time.

Federal employes honored veterans Oct. 25, so federal offices, including post offices, will be open.

All county offices, including courts, will be closed.

School districts taking the day off include Mt. Diablo and Martinez

Mt. Diablo district schools also will be closed Friday.



San Ramon's newest school

Pine Valley Intermediate School on Pine Valley Road in San Ramon will house seventh and eighth graders and some sixth grade students when it opens next September. Construction cost of the school is $3,542,400. The 60,140 square feet will include 20 classrooms, facilities for Special Education, science, homemaking and industrial arts, a gymnasium with boys and girls locker rooms, a library and a student commons (lunch, assemblies, book locker area). The San Ramon Valley Unified School District facility will take students from Country Club, Neil Armstrong, Walt Disney and seventh graders presently attending California High School. (Times photo)

Most LLL employes live here

LIVERMORE — Nearly 65 per cent of the 6188 Lawrence Livermore Laboratory's employes live in the Valley, a semi - annual residential analysis shows.

A survey taken this month shows 4009 employes living in Livermore, Pleasanton or Dublin, compared to 3683 one year ago.

Lab employes living in Livermore constitute the single largest number, 55.6 per cent of the entire workforce. Pleasanton is second with 7.7 per cent, with Dublin in tenth place with 1.5 per cent.

San Ramon Valleyites working at the Valley's largest employer count for 4.5 per cent of the entire Lab population. This includes Danville (2.4 per cent), San Ramon (1.2 per cent), and Alamo (.9 per cent).

Livermore recorded the largest drop in Lab employes at .7 per cent. Pleasanton showed a .6 per cent gain in the same period, while Dublin had a .3 per cent increase.

CCC mental health programs lack sufficient state funding

Lesher News Bureau

MARTINEZ--County mental health programs Are operating only slightly over budget, members of the Mental Health Advisory Board were told Tuesday night.

But there stiLl is a big problem, Lew Pascalli, county mental health administrator said.

The problem arises because the state is not paying enough of its share of the county mental health program.

The county is supposed to pay 10 per cent as a local share to recieve state funds. But because of an incredibly complicated formula this county will have to spend almost three time that amount to fund existing programs.

Pascalli said the state formula penalizes this county yet gives some counties much more than they expect to use.

Dr. Charles Pollack, county mental health chief, had high hopes earlier in the year that Contra Costa would get a portion of new state funds which were pumped into county programs.

The state after allocating the mental health funds to all the counties decided to add an additional $10 million. But because of the formula, the county was not allocated an extra dime out of this new money.

Dr. Pollack told state health officials at a meeting in Senator John Nejedly's office in Walnut Creek of the inequity of the formula as it affected Contra Costa County.

Just recently he met again with state health officials and received a "handshake" assurance that this county wOuld receive more state monies. The monies would be coming from those counties which will not be using all the state funds allocated to them.

However, while the request has now been put in writing, there has been no official answer in writing. And there has been no more money for this county.

As it stands now, Pascalli explained, local mental health programs will cost the county $748,000 moe than they should or $1.1 million instead of something over $400,000.

In an effort to get rid of part of that $748,000 over run, the mental health department recently cut out $200,000 of existing services.

Area lawmakers favor new tax reform plans

Lesher News Bureau

WALNUT CREEK--Reforms in property tax assessment practices are needed, but deciding on precise changes is difficult, say state and county lawmakers.

Assemblyman John Knox, D-Richmond, County Supervisor Warren Boggess of Concord and County Assessor Fred Wanaka all told the League of Women Voters Wednesday that they favor such changes.

But the "shopping list" of reforms is a big one, and selecting changes that will equitable reduce property taxes is a tricky job.

The three men, plus county assessment appeals board chairman James Goodhue took part in a panel discussion sponsored by the LWV.

Knox said he favors a shift of the property tax to the state sales and income taxes.

That, he acknowledged, could mean a disproportionate share of taxes would be paid by people of lower income via increased sales taxes. On the whole, such a tax shift should be equitable, Knox said.

Boggess told the LWV that he favors a change in property tax assessments whereby people would pay taxes only on the equity they have in their home.

For example, a person who is buying a $100,000 house but owes $70,000 on the loan would pay taxes only on his $30,000 equity.

Mental health unit okays $74,000 for patient rights

Lesher News Bureau

MARTINEZ--The county Mental Health Advisory Board approved a $74,000 proposal to insure patients' rights over the strong protests of one of its members.

Dr. Steven Heisler said that by following the new state law there was a danger of getting a "lot of people involved in the direct treatment of patients when they shouldn't be."

He said the many reports that would have to be made by the patients' rights advocate could conflict with the rights of confidentiality between patient and doctor.

Dr. Charles Pollack, chief of the county's Mental Health Department, said the advocate was a service mandated by the state and the county had no choice.

Heisler disagreed saying, "What you mean is that we'd better cut our own throat before some one does it for us."

Pollack admitted that the type of information the reports will provide would be of "minimal use."

He said it would be more work for the nurses who would have to make a record when a right is denied to the patient, say what right was denied and why.

At the end of the month the patients' rights advocate would compile the list of violations and send a report to the state.

Lists of the patients rights have been posted at the County Hospital's mental health wards. These lists are also to be posted at any hospital in the county that accepts mental health patients.

"Merit Delivers More Taste Than Higher Tar Cigarettes."

–American Institute of Consumer Opinion

Extensive taste testing shows Merit delivers flavor of cigarettes having 60% more tar.

The bottom line was conclusive:

In a series of taste tests conducted for MERIT by the American Institute of Consumer Opinion,* smokers from across the country judged MERIT to have more flavor than five leading low tar cigarette brands.

What's really startling –and of major importance to all smokers—is that MERIT has less tar than these five brands.

MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL

Less tar. Yet more taste.

That's the report on a remarkable new taste process called 'Enriched Flavor.'™ A way to pack extra flavor into tobacco without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette. MERIT.
